

District Court Pro Bono Programs

In addition to the Fifth Circuit Pro Bono Program, there are other helpful programs throughout the circuit. When appointment of counsel is warranted, district courts have numerous resources to draw from. For example, in addition to CJA panels, many judicial districts, or the associated Federal Bar Association, maintain a list of attorneys who are willing to take on civil rights cases pro bono. Attorneys interested in joining pro bono panels at the district court level can visit the following links:

Louisiana Eastern: <http://www.laed.uscourts.gov/news/civil-pro-bono-program-%E2%80%93-made-permanent>

Louisiana Middle: <https://www.lamd.uscourts.gov/civil-pro-bono-pilot-program>

Louisiana Western: <https://www.lawd.uscourts.gov/civil-pro-bono-panel>

Texas Eastern: http://www.txed.uscourts.gov/?q=attorneys/NonCJA-ProBono\_forms

Texas Northern: <http://www.txnd.uscourts.gov/pro-bono-civil-panel-information>

Texas Southern: <https://www.fedbar.org/southern-district-of-texas-chapter/wp-content/uploads/sites/97/2019/10/Pro-Bono-Application-pdf.pdf>

Texas Western: <https://www.txwd.uscourts.gov/for-attorneys/pro-bono-civil-appointments/index.html>

Mississippi Northern: Attorneys interested in pro bono representations should contact Lesley Miller at ecf\_information@msnd.uscourts.gov.

Mississippi Southern: Attorneys interested in pro bono representations should contact Clerk of Court Arthur Johnston at 601-608-4000.