judge is not supported by substantial evidence. More specifically, Doss contends that the administrative law judge's determination that she could perform medium work is not supported by an objective evaluation of the medical evidence.

The administrative law judge applied the proper legal standard in evaluating Doss's disability claim, and the decision that Doss was not disabled and is able to perform work in the national economy is supported by substantial evidence on the record as whole. See Muse v. Sullivan, 925 F.2d 785, 789 (5th Cir. 1991); Anthony v. Sullivan, 954 F.2d 289, 292 (5th Cir. 1992). Accordingly the judgment of the magistrate judge is AFFIRMED.
