Appeals from the United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas
USDC No. 5:11-CV-13

Before DAVIS, SOUTHWICK, and COSTA, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:*

Rafael Edgardo Solis, Sr. died in pretrial custody at the Webb County Jail. The plaintiffs brought suit alleging the defendants, a group of Webb County jailors, caused Solis's death by applying excessive force in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment. The defendants now seek to appeal the district court's order denying summary judgment.

The defendants claim that we have jurisdiction over the district court's denial of summary judgment based on qualified immunity, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1291. While we generally lack jurisdiction over a denial of summary judgment, we can immediately review a denial based on qualified immunity. See Kinney v. Weaver, 367 F.3d 337, 346 (5th Cir. 2004).

The defendants' claim is unavailing. The defense of qualified immunity was not properly presented to the district court. The defendants argue they raised qualified immunity by arguing they acted in good faith. The defendants confuse the good faith standard in excessive force determinations with a defendant's burden to plead good faith as part of a qualified immunity defense. Compare Wilkins v. Gaddy, 559 U.S. 34, 37 (2010) (good faith in excessive force claims), with Bazan ex rel. Bazan v. Hidalgo Cnty., 246 F.3d 481, 489 (5th Cir. 2001) (good faith in qualified immunity).

Regardless, the district court did not rule on qualified immunity. Accordingly, we lack appellate jurisdiction at this time.

DISMISSED.
