when she slipped and fell on a puddle of water that allegedly leaked from the appliance. The Deedses sued the seller/installer and the manufacturer, asserting products liability and other claims.

The district court granted the defendants' motion for summary judgment on the ground that the action was barred by Texas's two-year statute of limitations. Although suit was filed right before the two years elapsed, the district court found a lack of diligence in serving process. The court also reversed the decision of the magistrate judge granting leave to amend.

We have reviewed the record, the briefs, and the applicable law and have heard the helpful arguments of counsel. There is no reversible error. The judgment of dismissal is AFFIRMED.
