UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff-Appellee,

versus

LEONOR MONTELONGO,

Defendant-Appellant.

---

Appeal from the United States District Court for the Western District of Texas
(A-93-CR-110(1))

---

(July 25, 1994)

Before JOLLY, WIENER, and EMILIO M. GARZA, Circuit Judges.

E. GRADY JOLLY, Circuit Judge:*

This appeal seeks review of the district court's order revoking the bond of Leonor Montelongo and placing her in the custody of the United States Marshal for a period of time through July 20, 1994, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. §§ 4241 and 4247, for purposes of a psychiatric or psychological examination to determine if she is competent to stand trial. This court has been advised by the *Local Rule 47.5 provides: "The publication of opinions that have no precedential value and merely decide particular cases on the basis of well-settled principles of law imposes needless expense on the public and burdens on the legal profession." Pursuant to that Rule, the court has determined that this opinion should not be published.

parties that the examination was to be completed on July 20, 1994, and that the defendant would thereafter be returned to Austin, Texas, by the United States Marshal. The defendant's appeal of the order of commitment is therefore moot and will be dismissed.

The district court's order contains no stated reasons for revocation of the defendant's bond other than her commitment to the United States Marshal for purposes of a psychiatric or psychological examination. Because that purpose will have been concluded upon the defendant's return to Austin, Texas, the bond should at that time be reinstated to its status that existed before the entry of the order of revocation absent any further proceedings before the district court.

DISMISSED with INSTRUCTIONS.
