FOR THE FIFTH CIRCUIT

No. 95-10937
(Summary Calendar)

BARBARA A. ARBUCKLE,

Plaintiff-Appellant,

versus

SHIRLEY S. CHATER,
Commissioner of Social Security,

Defendant-Appellee.

April 5, 1996

Before GARWOOD, WIENER and PARKER, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:*

Barbara A. Arbuckle appeals the grant of summary judgment for the Commissioner of Social Security affirming the denial of social security benefits. Arbuckle contends that the administrative law judge (ALJ) failed to provide reasons for his finding that her complaints of pain were not credible; that her pain, sleepiness, moodiness, loss of dexterity, discomfort when sitting, and need to lie down severely limit her ability to work; that the ALJ's finding that she can perform a full range of light work is not supported by substantial evidence because her nonexertional limitations preclude light work; and that the ALJ erred by relying on the medical-vocational guidelines to determine that she was not disabled.

We have reviewed the record and the briefs of the parties and find no reversible error. Accordingly, we affirm for essentially the same reasons set forth by the district court. See Arbuckle v. Chater, No. 94-CV-127-X (N.D. Tex. Sep. 13, 1995).

AFFIRMED.
