February 28, 1997

Before GARWOOD, DeMOSS and STEWART, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:*

Solomon B. Guillory, Louisiana state prisoner #120347, appeals from the district court's denial of his petition for writ of habeas corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254. He argues that the state trial court's reasonable doubt instruction was unconstitutional, that the state trial court's instruction to the jury on the law of principals was unconstitutional and deprived him of his right to due process, that he was denied equal protection of the laws because other criminal defendants have previously been granted relief on the same errors which he has alleged, that he received ineffective assistance of counsel because his attorney failed to object to the state trial court's reasonable doubt instruction, and that he was denied due process by a cumulation of errors committed during the course of his trial. We have reviewed the record and find no reversible error. Further, because Guillory failed to adequately brief his claim that he was denied due process by a cumulation of errors committed during the course of his trial, this issue is deemed abandoned on appeal. See Yohey v. Collins, 985 F.2d 222, 224-25 (5th Cir 1993). Accordingly, the judgment of the district court is AFFIRMED.
