September 11, 1996

Before SMITH, DUHÉ, and BARKSDALE, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:*

Ronald Wayne Bunton, # 620942, appeals the summary-judgment dismissal of his Eighth Amendment claims against Jerry Karriker, Lewis Alford, and Harry Kinker filed pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Bunton contends that the defendants were deliberately indifferent to his medical needs by denying him medical treatment for his complaints of back pains and for his spitting up blood after numerous complaints and requests to be sent to the infirmary. Bunton also alleges that defendants Kinker and Karriker were deliberately indifferent to his medical needs by placing him in a work assignment beyond his medical limitations. We have reviewed the record and Bunton's brief and AFFIRM the district court's grant of summary judgment in favor of the defendants for essentially the same reasons adopted by the district court. Bunton v. Karriker et al., No. 9:94-CV-1 (E.D. Tx. Jan. 18, 1995).

AFFIRMED.
