UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff—Appellee,

versus

VIDAL VASQUEZ, JR.,

Defendant—Appellant.

Appeal from the United States District Court for the Western District of Texas
USDC No. 2:11-CR-1821-1

Before DAVIS, JONES, and ELROD, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:*

Following the revocation of Vidal Vasquez, Jr.'s supervised-release term, the district court sentenced him to 12 months of imprisonment and a five-year term of supervised release. Vasquez's sole claim, raised for the first time on appeal, challenges a condition of supervised release providing that if his probation officer determines that he poses a risk to another person, the officer may require him to notify that person of the risk. Vasquez argues that the district court erred in imposing this condition because it constitutes an impermissible delegation of judicial authority.

The sole issue in this appeal is now foreclosed by United States v. Mejia-Banegas, 32 F.4th 450, 451-52 (5th Cir. 2022), in which this court rejected the same argument and held that the district court did not err, plainly or otherwise, by imposing the same risk-notification condition. We accordingly AFFIRM the judgment of the district court.
